The Auditorium

The vaudeville bill for the first half of the present week is certainly pleasing all and it is a first class variety show. The vaudeville bill presents some very clever character work in her act which she opens with a cowgirl song, into which she puts a whole lot of snap and ginger, and closes with an Indian number which is appropriately costumed to the smallest detail and everything is the "real" not the "imitation." Elona makes three complete costume changes, doing each in such quick time that one hardly believes it. "Absolutely marvelous" is what is being said of the little Japanese Twins in their contortions and acrobatic work. The little boys perform some of the most difficult feats in the acrobatic line and the house remains so quiet during the act of these little Japs that even a pin could be heard to fall. The Bothwell Sisters get a very big hand on their singing and are the possessors of sweet and melodious voices, and Wink and Davis please with their singing. Especially good is the yodeling of these clever people. The pictures today are all new and of interesting subjects.

A Big Night Tonight at Poli's

Everything is in readiness to make tonight one big event of the season. It will be known as Murphy night for a big reception will be given to Dan Murphy and wife before their departure for Cuba.

Special arrangements have been made to put on an extra act of vaudeville besides the regular try out acts. It will be one of the best of the season. Special stunts will be pulled off by the various acts, and particularly by Haines & Vlado, who have a surprise store for the audience in the line of jokes.

Six extra acts from New York will make up the try out end and each act will be a scream as they will get the best of the try out end.

The bill for the last half of the week beginning Thanksgiving matinee will be a winner. It will have for its headliner Purcell-Taylor trio, one of the best acts of the line in vaudeville, the Bon Air trio, May Clinton & Co., the Girl Behind the Gun, Lyons & Cullen, Venetian Four.

The prices at the matinee Thursday will be the same as night.

BREED THEATER

The Biograph pictures at the Breed theater are unusually fine and show two subjects which are both comedy. The one called The Proposal is exceedingly funny and shows a bachelor who decides he is in need of a wife. He goes to a cafe for his home and clothes, and writes a proposal to a widow, and after mailing it, sees a poor man laden with bundles, his wife carrying a crying baby and the picture is so much for him, and he becomes frantic in his attempt to recall the proposal. The climax is a wonderful, uproarious and is a screamingly funny. Both Mrs. D. and the picture are in a big hand with their excellent illustrated songs.

PERSONALITIES

Emperor William of Germany, like his father and grandfather, is a skilled workman, and has had all his sons equally well trained. The Carbons, who have given so many distinguished men to France, follow the same practice. Shortly before his assassination, President Carnot told an interviewer that "at the outbreak of the revolution my grandfather fled to Switzerland, and there for a time was in subject property. He had large sums invested in France, but was unable to draw on them. On his return he determined that all his sons should learn a trade, so that they could fend for themselves in a similar emergency. We have kept up the tradition and I myself am a skilled carpenter and could earn 5 francs (81) or 6 francs (81.40) a day at it."

Edmond de Goncourt, the French novelist, admitted that he worked with an eye to his epitaph and he wanted the epitaph to endure for a long time. He records in his diary that he thought that the world may perish, may not last forever, is one which occasionally fills his mind with gloom. I should be defrauded by the destruction of this planet, for I have written only in the hope of eternal fame. A reputation lasting 10,000, 20,000 or even 100,000 years, would be a poor return for the pains I have taken, the privations I have suffered under these conditions it would have been better to lounge aimlessly through life dreaming and smoking my life away."

Dr. Christopher Koch of Philadelphia, vice president of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical board, who recently directed a crusade against cocaine and opium sellers in Philadelphia, says that 48 per cent. of all criminals are addicted to a drug habit of some kind. He adds that the use of opium in this country has increased 36 per cent. since 1880, and that 150,000 Americans and 120,000 Chinese in China have suffered under these conditions it would have been better to lounge aimlessly through life dreaming and smoking my life away."

They Think for Themselves

The people want him—the Roosevelt who preached the square deal, not the Roosevelt who felt that he was called upon to meet the exigencies of a hot political campaign. There is still need of him, and he can "come back." But one thing which cannot "come back" is the absurd notion, lately prevalent, that it is possible for any man, or any group of men, to lead the American nation around by the nose.—Cleveland Leader.

In 1909 Japan exported earthenware and porcelain to the value of $2,613,000, and of this the United States took $2,412,841.
